

Hervé Carré

Hervé Carré is Director General of Eurostat since May 2006. He joined the European Commission in Brussels in 1973, specializing in the monetary area. He has since led divisions dealing with national and European Community monetary policies, the EMS, ECU and exchange markets, and international monetary and financial matters.

In 1991 he was seconded to the US Federal Reserve Board in Washington, and in 1992 to the Government of Portugal as adviser to the minister of finance. He returned to the European Commission in 1994 as director for monetary matters and in 1999 became the Director for the Economy of the Eurozone and the European Union. As a member of the Economic and Financial Committee (formerly the Monetary Committee) he was involved in all negotiations concerning the creation of the euro.

From 2002 to 2005 he was the minister for economic, financial, and development affairs at the Delegation of the European Commission in Washington D.C. and from September 2005 to April 2006, he was Deputy Director General at the Directorate General for Economic and Financial Affairs.