

Session 5. 31 July 2013
Questions for group discussion

How many to interview and who to interview?

- What are the questions that you are interested in answering with the data? Does it suggest that you need to:
  - o Interview one person about all household assets
  - o Interview multiple people to obtain information on all assets
  - o Interview multiple people to understand gender and empowerment issues
- If one person, how should he or she be chosen?
- What is the impact of the usual “head of household” responding on ownership reporting?
- In the existing survey setting, is it feasible to interview multiple persons in the same household?
- Is it possible to interview a person for the asset module who is different from the person who answers the main survey modules?
- If multiple persons are interviewed, what is the sequence/timing of the interview? Should they be interviewed together with multiple interviewers? Or separately? How are the interviewers matched with respondents (FF, FM, MM)?
