

INDICATOR GUIDELINES

FOR POLICY MONITORING IN THE PACIFIC

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	vi
Abbreviations and acronyms	vii
Glossary of terms	viii
1 Introduction	2
1.1 Objectives	2
1.2 Who should read this document	3
1.3 Background	3
2 Understanding national reporting mechanisms	6
2.1 National indicator landscapes	6
2.2 Identify reporting requirements	7
2.3 Who should be involved in indicator development/selection for reporting processes	9
3 Designing quality statistical indicators	12
3.1 Four dimensions of sound indicators	13
3.2 Importance of metadata	16
4 Developing national indicator frameworks	20
4.1 Key guiding principles overview	20
4.2 Establishing a plan to develop and endorse the indicator framework	24
5 Addressing reporting needs against global and regional frameworks	28
5.1 Reporting against the Sustainable Development Goals	28
5.2 Reporting against the Antigua and Barbuda Agenda for Small Island Developing States	29
5.3 Reporting against the 2050 Strategy for the Blue Pacific Continent	30
6 Managing all nationally relevant indicators	32
6.1 Understanding the complexities at the sector level	32
6.2 Benefits of a core set of priority indicators	33
7 Monitoring national, regional and global indicator frameworks	36
7.1 Establishing baselines and target values (benchmarks)	36
7.2 Reporting processes and challenges	38
8 Guiding steps for developing a national statistical strategy	49

