

International Workshop on Data
Disaggregation for the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)
28-30 January 2019, Bangkok, Thailand

Handbook on Monitoring Disaggregated Data for the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

Jose Ramon “Toots” Albert, Ph.D.
Philippine Institute for Development Studies
email: jalbert@mail.pids.gov.ph;

irgalbert@gmail.com

Agenda

- The Need for a Handbook
- Draft Outline
- Ways Forward

1. The Need for a Handbook

- Guideline for Countries: Turning Commitment on Disaggregated Data to Action (for Compiling, Analyzing, Reporting, Using Granular Data)
- Target Readership: Official Statisticians from NSOs, Technical Officers from Line Ministries
- Learning Material that can be used for Regional Workshops and Possibly Country Seminars

2. Outline of Handbook

- Introduction: Making people visible in disaggregated statistics
- Module 1. Integrating Policy Demands on Inclusive Development with Data
- Module 2. Collecting and compiling disaggregated data
- Module 3. Analyzing disaggregated data
- Module 4. Understanding the consequences of granular data
- Module 5. Reporting, Communicating and Improving Use of Disaggregated Data

2.1. Introduction

- ‘Big pictures’ do not portray the ‘full picture’
 - Motivating case/s
 - Why equity is important in the context of development and SDGs?
 - What is lost when data is aggregated?
- Data Disaggregation in support of attaining the SDGs
 - The Overarching principle of data disaggregation for the SDGs:
 - What is data disaggregation?
 - How can NSSs meet disaggregated data requirements of SDGs?
 - IAEG-SDGs work on data disaggregation
- Structure and purpose of the handbook; identify target audience

2.2. Module 3: Analyzing Disaggregated data

Discussion Points

- Calculating disaggregated data from microdata
- Summary measures of inequality
- Good practices
 - Health Equity Assessment Toolkit (HEAT) and HEAT Plus of WHO
 - Gender Equality and Multiple Deprivation Assessment
 - Education Equity Assessment
 - ADePT: Software Platform for Automated Economic Analysis of World Bank

Summary of Key Issues and Lessons Learned

Module Review Questions and Exercises

Reading Materials

3. Ways Forward

- Use workshop materials, and country experiences shared, as input to the writing the Handbook
- Compile and Address Comments of Development Partners on Draft Outline of Handbook
- Prepare Draft Handbook

END of PRESENTATION
Questions and Suggestions?