HOW TO USE THE LIST OF GEOGRAPHICAL NAMES

Alphabetical order:

A a, Ä ä	H h	O o, Ö ö	U u, Ü ü
B b	I i	P p	V v
C c	J j	Q q	W w
D d	K k	R r	X x
E e	L l	S s	Y y
F f	M m	T t	Z z
G g	N n

Annotation: Ä ä, Ö ö & Ü ü are handled as a, o & u.
ß can be handled as ss.

Examples:

Breisgau: Underlined names are printed in the Übersichtskarte der Bundesrepublik Deutschland 1:500 000.

Abteiland: Names not underlined are not printed in the above-mentioned map but are hereby recommended for consideration in a new edition.

(Davert) s. Die Davert: Names in parantheses are not used, mostly because of a difference in spelling or an additional article is needed.

('Bitgau') s. Bitburger Land: Names in parantheses and quotes are used synonymously.

+Bregenzer Wald+: Crosses show landscapes at the German border with an uncertain areal extension.

"07/51": This gives the geographical co-ordinates and means 7 degrees eastern longitude and 51 degrees northern latitude.

Abbreviations

The grammatical gender of geographical names ("der, die, das") is shown by:

m masculine

f feminine

n neuter

Mz indicates the plural. The gender is not mentioned, for the German plural article "die" is the same for all genders.

s. see

*1* In topographical maps the combined form of the article plus geographical name is preferred.

*2* The article is only used together with an adjective; this concerns all

- islands and some other geographical names.
- *3* A dialectic connection with a preposition is customary and therefore used on topographical maps.
  - *4* Besides the standard German spelling ending with -er, there exists a shorter spelling which is more regionally used.
  - *5* In topographical maps a combined form of the specific article plus geographical name is used every time.
  - *6* Besides the geographical name, there exists a place name which was officially created during the time of a new organisation of the community boundaries, mainly during the 70's.
  - *7* This name covers a large area, which is not shown on the above-mentioned map.

The following letters show the Bundesland of the Federal Republic of Germany, which is (or are) concerned by a geographical name:

B	Berlin (West)	NS	Niedersachsen
BW	Baden-Württemberg	NW	Nordrhein-Westfalen
BY	Bayern	RP	Rheinland-Pfalz
HB	Bremen	SH	Schleswig-Holstein
HH	Hamburg	SL	Saarland
HE	Hessen

If there are two or three states (Bundesländer) concerned, the one which occupies the larger area is mentioned first.
