

Measuring Saving in the National Accounts - New Zealand

Measuring Saving in the National Accounts outlines how saving is derived in the current national accounts and the relationships between national saving, sector saving, net wealth, investment and the current account balance with the rest of the world. This paper was released in conjunction with National Accounts: Year ended March 2007.

Custodian: Statistics New Zealand

Knowledgebase on Economic Statistics - Methods and Country Practices

<http://unstats.un.org/unsd/EconStatKB/KnowledgebaseArticle10357.aspx>