

1) UK census data at Output Area level

Today, 13 June 2014, ONS has made available the Key and Quick Statistics tables at Output Area (OA) level, for all Output Areas in the UK. This combines information previously published separately by the census office responsible for the conduct of the census in each constituent country of the UK.

The tables are equivalent to the local authority level UK data released in three parts in October / December 2012 and January 2014. Between them, those three releases provided all Key and Quick Statistics that were harmonisable across England and Wales, Scotland, and Northern Ireland.

The tables - 26 Key Statistics and 47 Quick Statistics - are provided now for all Output Areas in the UK, in a simple csv form suitable for additional processing by users. The data is accompanied by supporting information that explains the steps taken to merge categories in some tables to produce a UK harmonised table, and further detailed explanations and definitions of terms used in tables. To aid users in re-aggregating the OA data administrative and other common geographies, a look-up file that relates all OAs to every standard higher level geography in each country is also included.

All of the data is available to download in a single zip file from:
