Context & commitments

Context & commitments

The positive contribution of migration to development is increasingly recognized

Global

- The SDGs Agenda recognizes the contribution of migration to sustainable development.
  - ✓ Migration and Gender are crucial & cross-cutting issues and relevant for SDGs;
  - ✓ "Migratory status" disaggregation variable.
- The global compacts for refugees and migrants (gender & data are central)
  - ✓ 1st objective of GCM is on Data
  - ✓ GCM : Gender-responsive.

Regional

- Morocco is mandated by AU to lead the African migration group.
- Is Hosting the intergovernmental conference to adopt the GCM.
- Hosting the African Migration Observatory to "Understand, Anticipate, Act"

National

Morocco has two Migration Strategies

- National strategy on immigration and asylum (SNIA)
- National strategy on emigration. Diaspora (SNMRE)

Growing need for better data on all dimensions and impacts of migration for well managed policies

Mapping & addressing data gaps

Gender issues related to migration?

Main gender issues

- Push (country of origin) and pull (country of destination) factors ?
- Gender inequalities affect women's and men's migration?
- Who takes/ is involved in the decision making process?
- Which factors are influencing the decision to migrate?
- Are there any stereotypes with regard to migration
- Do they move individually or with family members?
- Who is left behind? with consent/willing or not? And why ?
- Do gender roles affect women and men's migration? In the same way
- Do men and women have equal access to pre-migration information/assistance?
- Do gender inequalities affect men and women migration?
- Are there any gender inequalities/segregation regarding labour market in CoO & CoD?
- Are there any gender specific barriers/restrictions ?
- How do gender roles influence the patterns of sending remittances?
- Who beneficiate from? who decide for the uses of remittances?
- how money is spent? For what purposes?

Main gender issues

- Do they have equal opportunities/face same challenges?
- Does migration affect gender relations among HH members left behind ?
- What is the impact on the members left behind?
- Do family members left behind have access to basic services/rights
- How do gender roles influence the patterns of receiving and spending remittances?
- Who benefit from remittances?
- Who is involved in management/use of remittances?
- What is the impact during return migration and the re-integration?
- How did migration empower or dis-empower women and men migrants?
- Are skills acquired recognized and transferred to the home country?
- What economic opportunities do female and male returnees have?
- Are returnee migrants able to engage in decision political spheres (CoO/CoD)?
- What are the issues related to gender-specific vulnerability?
- Who are the vulnerable groups: which situations/risks ?

Consultations process and questionnaires' design

Overview of the Survey

Overview of the survey

The survey is a MEDHIMS, a regional project (supported by WB, EU, UNHCR, UNFPA, ILO, WHO, others) that was planned to overcome the lack in terms of detailed, harmonized and comparable data on international migration among the south Mediterranean countries.

Objectives of the survey

The objectives of the Moroccan migration survey are guided by and the frameworks of the SDGs and GCM, which emphasize the great need for collecting, analyzing and using migration data. Aiming to meet also the national needs, the main objectives of the survey are:

1. To collect and analyze detailed data on recent trends and profiles of international migration, characteristics of migrants 'groups (compared to non-migrants);
2. To study the causes, determinants, dynamics and consequences of international migration, and the inter-linkages between migration and development;
3. To explore scenarios for a closer cooperation in the sector of migration and development between the sending and receiving countries, particularly the European Union.

Targeted population and eligible groups

The questionnaires design

In designing the questionnaires, the key challenge was to provide a holistic framework that deals with various dimensions of international migration through the collection of data that are multi-topic, multi-level, retrospective and comparative:

Multi-topic data. The Qs are designed to collect data on the following five population groups: out migrants, return migrants, non-migrants (and among them prospective migrants), immigrants and forced migrants. Various aspects of the respondents' lives as well as 'emerging issues' of international migration for which data are required are covered by the questionnaires in order to provide the variables needed for the analysis.

Multi-level data are also needed as migration decision-making is affected by institutional and structural factors operating at the regional, national, and the local community levels. Contextual data are also necessary to study interactions between migration experience and socio-economic changes. Thus, in addition to gathering data at the household and individual levels, the Qs are designed to gather information on characteristics and socio-economic status of the household and on characteristics of local communities.

Retrospective data.

Most research questions call for dynamic analyses that require dated data. It is firstly necessary to explore the patterns of circulation (the comings and goings of the migrants, the routes they use, etc.). To explain migration causes, we also need information not at the time of the survey but just before each migration. And to explore the impact of migration on family changes, we need to know the time of migration and to get dated information on various topics including marriage and fertility before and after migration.

Comparative framework.

The lack of comparable data is a major handicap to the study of migration from the our region. A major objective of the surveys is to attain comparability and harmonization across countries through the use of standardized questionnaires in order to disentangle national specificities and general processes.

Individual questionnaires & modules

Gender related issues Considered

Gender & Migration cycle

Pre-migration issues

	Restrictions on women (in CoO or in CoD)	Specific concern

- Remittance costs as a proportion of the amount remitted (10.c.1)

Main related challenges

Main challenges

- As any household survey it is based on interviewee's responses (in certain cases on proxy responses), therefore :
- Gender bias could occurs when collecting data on attitudes, perception, intentions to move, decision-making power in the household, domestic violence and reproductive health.
- Accurate data may not be provided regarding legal and administrative topics related to the migration process and status.
- Problems related to memory could occur because many reference periods were considered therefore that could affect the quality of the information collected.
- One of the limitations of household surveys is the difficulties to cover gender issues related to some vulnerable groups who are hard to reach.
  - ✓ Women victims of trafficking
  - ✓ Violence victims/survivors
  - ✓ Women border workers
  - ✓ Women seasonal migrants
  - ✓ Unaccompanied women minors.
