

הלשכה המרכזית לסטטיסטיקה
Central Bureau of Statistics
دائرة الإحصاء المركزية

Reporting to Demographic Yearbook (DYB) in the perspective of Israel

Ahmad Hleihel

It's All in the Numbers <<<

Demographic Statistics in Israel and DYB

Data Sources:

Last census, Population register, Vital registration, Border reg., migration reg., Address moves reg., Institution census.

Data (of previous year) Processing:

April to June: editing, imputation, Anchoring addresses

July: DB for dissemination

Since August: official publications, serving users, international reporting.

February-April: (next year): DYB

DYB Questionnaire:

Population, Vital and Migration

Callous template:

Limitations in Revised data:

Non-direct processing

Inconsistency between what ICBS publish and the DYB

Issues for discussion

- Should there be full compatibility between the data published by the NSO's and the data published by international organizations/DYB?
- Do we want to access the data once to all the international organizations?

Issues for discussion (con.)

- Is the accessibility of the data of all countries, should be at the same time (simultaneous)?
- Is the traditional framework of DYB necessary?
Is accessing the data through a database enough?
- Is it necessary to expand the list of indices for international comparison? (cohort indices)

Modernizing the process?

- Prepare, in each issue (population, births, deaths, marriages, divorce, ...) a PUF that serves all the needs of international organizations (For example, population file by age, sex, urban / rural, city of residence, etc.)
- Access the files on the website (or in any other technological way)

Thank You for your Attention