

Session 4: Implementation of the Guide to Producing Statistics on Time Use

The session will present the opportunity for EG-TUS members to brainstorm on ways to promote the adaptation and adoption of the Guide recommendations by countries. The session will also serve to exchange plans for regional and global initiatives to strengthen national capacity in producing high-quality, frequent, timely, and granular time-use data.

Virtual Meeting of the Expert Group on Innovative and Effective Ways to Collect Time-Use Statistics

How does your office plan to promote and adopt the Guide recommendations?

For NSOs:

1. What are the needs of your country to implement the Guide recommendations?
2. How could the international community offer support? What practices prove most effective (study tours, regional workshops, national workshops, online training, network of experts, others)?

For Regional Commissions and International Agencies:

1. What activities are planned for 2024 to strengthen national capacities for time-use statistics?
2. How can we promote synergy among different initiatives and maximize resources?
