

Framework for the Development of Environment Statistics (FDES 2013)

New applications of the FDES and ESSAT

Indonesia

12 - 14 August 2024

National Workshop on the Framework for the Development of Environment Statistics (FDES 2013):

To enhance the technical capacity of the National Statistical System (NSS) and other key stakeholders in determining the scope of environment statistics in the country. The workshop was a collaboration between the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) and BPS-Statistics Indonesia as part of the Statistics and Data Project “Resilient and agile National Statistical Systems to meet post-COVID-19 data needs to recover better” under the 14th tranche of the United Nations Development Account.

South Sudan

29 - 31 October 2024

National Workshop on the Framework for the Development of Environment Statistics (FDES 2013)

- 1. Align with international standards: Enhance understanding of the FDES 2013 framework to ensure that South Sudan's environmental statistics align with global standards and best practices.
- 2. Build capacity for integrated assessments: Equip members of the National Environmental Information Network (NEIN) with the necessary skills to conduct integrated environmental assessments and reporting, supporting national development planning and the implementation of Multilateral Environmental Agreements (MEAs).
- 3. Enhance data governance and sharing: Promote the development of robust operational frameworks and guidelines for data governance, sharing, and usability, including standardized formats, protocols, and metadata management.
- 4. Support National Environmental Initiatives: Contribute to the ongoing preparation of the South Sudan's first Voluntary National Review (VNR) by enhancing NEIN skills for the compilation of comprehensive data on the environmental dimension of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).
