National Register of Violence against Women in Argentina (RUCVM)
The National Register of Violence against Women (RUCVM) was created in the framework of law 26485 for ‘Integral Protection to Women”, it takes part of the National Action Plan for Prevention, Assistance and Erradication of Violence against Women.

It is the result of joint work of INDEC and the Consejo Nacional de las Mujeres (National Women Council).
Register Objective

Centralize and sistematize the information available in administrative registers (complaints or assistance requests) for the design of indicators conceptually and methodologically harmonized, which will constitute input to public policies design.

Information Supplier Organisms

State organisms from all three political-administrative levels (National, Provincial and Municipal) in the country that attend and register violence against woman on gender reasons data.
Object Population

Women aged 14 years old and over, victims of violence for gender reasons, whose data have been registered at some state organism since January 2013.

The victim’s identity protection is assured by Statistic Secret Law (Law 17622).
RUCVM Structure

• The identification of the administrative record
• The socialdemographic characteristics of women (victims)
• The socialdemographic characteristics of the offender

RUCVM does not include either femicide or human trafficking cases.

Challenges to RUCVM

Taking into account that counting on reliable information will allow to design public policies oriented to prevent and eradicate violence against women, our present challenges are:
• To add all the organisms and victim attention centres as suppliers to RUCVM
• To raise awareness among data producers about the importance of completing collected information
• To produce continuous statistical information maintaining expected quality standards
• To widen the set of variables required such as ethnic condition, migration condition, presence of minors, victim’s disability, among others.
Thank you!
