

Gender Statistics Manual

United Nations Statistics Division

4th Global Forum on Gender Statistics
(Dead Sea, Jordan, 27-29 March 2012)

Background

- The Statistical Commission at its forty-second session requested the IAEG-GS to develop manuals and methodological guidelines for the production and use of gender statistics.
- UNSD has engaged in the preparation of a new manual with the primary objective of encouraging gender mainstreaming in the production of all official statistics.
- Members of IAEG-GS have provided useful comments and inputs on the structure and content of the manual.

The overall concept of the manual: Gender mainstreaming in national statistics

Working definition

- Gender issues and gender-based biases should be systematically taken into account in the production of all official statistics.

It means

Not only

- Disaggregation of data by sex
- Compilation and dissemination of sex-disaggregated data

But also

- Comprehensive coverage of gender issues and concerns
- Integration of a gender perspective into data collection
- Improved presentation of gender statistics in regular publications

Intended use of the manual

Main audience: statisticians in national statistical offices.

The manual will help statisticians to:

- identify gaps in gender statistics and develop a coherent and comprehensive plan for the production of gender statistics;
- ensure that survey instruments and censuses take into account gender issues and avoid gender-biases in measurement;
- improve data analysis and data presentation and deliver gender statistics in a format that is easy to use by policymakers and planners.

Table of Contents (1)

- Chapter 1 Overview of gender statistics and gender mainstreaming in national statistics
- Chapter 2 Bringing gender issues into statistics
  - Education
  - Work
  - Poverty
  - Environment
  - Power and decision-making
  - Population, households and families
  - Health
  - Migration, displaced persons and refugees
  - Violence against women

(Approach: gender issues -> statistics needed ->sources of data conceptual and measurement issues)

Table of Contents (2)

- Chapter 3 Integrating a gender perspective into data collection
  - Population and household censuses
  - Agricultural censuses and surveys
  - Labour force surveys
  - Demographic and health surveys
  - Time use surveys (small presentation)
  - Violence against women (small presentation)
  - Administrative and register-based sources
- Chapter 4 Analysis and presentation of gender statistics

Current status

- UNSD prepared the first draft of the manual
- International agencies and countries provided helpful comments and inputs (World Bank, UNESCO/UIS, UN WOMEN, UN Population Division, ILO, UNAIDS, UNICEF, UNHCR, Philippines, Italy)
- UNSD has incorporated most of the comments and inputs

Next steps

- UNSD will continue to incorporate inputs and comments and finalize the draft by June 2012
- As part of UNSD work programme, in collaboration with and financial contribution by the WB:
  - Web-based applications will be developed for an interactive version of the manual
  - Training workshops will be held to field test the manual
- IAEG-GS next task could focus on producing an additional section of the manual or a separate volume on the compilation of the agreed minimum set of gender indicators.