

Search News

Search Web

Sign In Mail

Trending News Duke Energy Corey Jones Pope Francis Disney Channel

News Home

- U.S.
- World
- Politics
- Tech
- Science
- Health
- Odd News
- Local
- Dear Abby
- Comics
- ABC News
- Katie Couric
- Trending
- Photos

Recommended Games

More games »

AFP October 20, 2015 3:00 PM

Social sharing buttons: t, f, twitter, email, Y, +, X

United Nations (United States) (AFP) - Women worldwide live longer lives and are more educated than at any time in the past 20 years, but more than a third have been victims of violence, a UN report said Tuesday.

The findings are contained in "The World's Women," a five-year study providing an up-to-date, global picture of the progress of women and girls on critical issues in their lives.

The sweeping study, the sixth to be released by the United Nations, includes new data on women's unpaid work and on violence against women, an issue that was not even monitored 20 years ago, said researcher Francesca Grum.

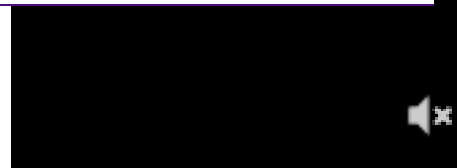

Figures from 102 countries, the highest number surveyed thus far, showed that more than a third of women have been victim of physical or sexual violence at some point in their lives.

"Violence against women is present everywhere. It's really a global concern," said Grum.

Worldwide, two out of three family-related homicides target women, the study showed.

The high prevalence of violence is matched by an equally pervasive silence, with victims still reluctant to confide to anyone about their ordeal.

The UN research team looked at indicators in 70 countries and

Does Xiaomi Copy Apple? WSJ Live

What to read next

The Top 32 Sodas—Ranked Eat This, Not That

Learn More About Prop 1 Texan's For Prop 1 Sponsored

Stevenson: U.S. prison system is hurting society Yahoo News Video

Donald Trump has experienced a major shift in one of the most significant predictors of found that fewer than 40 percent of victims will break the silence but they will talk to friends or family, instead of police or social services.

Fewer than 10 percent will go to the police.

On a brighter note, the report found that attitudes toward violence were starting to change in nearly all countries where information on the problem was available.

The level of acceptance of "wife-beating" decreases over time as public awareness rises, the report said.

At least 119 countries have passed laws on domestic violence, 125 have laws addressing sexual harassment and 52 have laws on marital rape.

- Women work more -

Women worldwide remain in low-paying jobs, earning on average between 70 and 90 percent of what men earn, the study found.

In developing countries, they spend on average three hours more per day than men on household chores and caring for family members -- a figure that drops to two hours a day for women in wealthier countries.

The number of countries adopting legislation providing maternity and family benefits has grown.

Over half of all countries currently offer at least 14 weeks of maternity leave but these measures often exclude workers in such sectors as agriculture or domestic work.

Women's life expectancy now reaches 72 globally, compared to 68 for men.

Leave a comment...

Sign in to post a comment

Popular Now Newest Oldest Most Replied

Pat 19 hours ago Bring in packs of feral Muslim rapists. That should help. Reply

Lucia Nicoleta 20 hours ago

Lebanese activists protest in Beirut, on May 30, 2015, calling for an end to domestic violence and t ...

... one of the most significant predictors of

Business Insider

Photos of the day - October 21, 2015

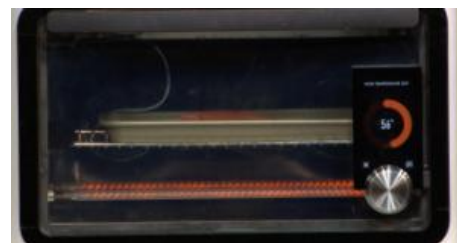

Yahoo News

COACH OVERSTOCK CLEARANCE

Coach Handbags are Being Sold for Next to Nothing

Chic Market Sponsored

The Intelligent Oven June

WSJ Live

Khloe Kardashian and Lamar Odom Call Off Divorce

ETonline

Body of 9-Week-Old Was Allegedly Left to Decompose in His Crib Until His Mom

Inside Edition

Is Very true .Buth this statistick old and numarous and simapel conattaian and declaime no isresolution- Resolution is actulazation norms International andTratat International multy country and application and violence no is dervat gnat strct on microfamily- some time is genrt

More

Reply

Social sharing icons for Twitter, Facebook, and Email, with the URL http://news.yahoo.com/wor

Recommended for You

Dad 'Deliberately' Killed Himself, Wife and Three Kids by Driving SUV into Lake: Cops. Video captured the final moments of the family of Inside Edition

New NY Solar Incentives? New York Residents: Get Solar for as low as $0 Down + Free... MySolarResource Sponsored

Ex-Wife Of Cheater Seeks A Way To Cope With Anger. DEAR ABBY: I work for a court, and while I was at work the bailiff Dear Abby

Two Ohio teen girls fatally shot, man charged with murder. Matthew Hayden, 21, walked out of the home and surrendered Reuters

Polish bishop defrocks gay priest who sparked Vatican fury. A Polish bishop on Wednesday defrocked a high-ranking Catholic priest fired by a furio... AFP 42 mins ago

THE NEW YORK CITY MARATHON: THE GREAT RACENow on view at The Museum of the City of New York is "The New York City Marathon: STYLE OF SPORT

LendingTree disrupts the mortgage landscape. Rates now at 2.97% APR - LendingTree Sponsored

Democrats release Benghazi testimony of top Clinton aide. WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats on the House committee investigating the deadly attacks in Associated Press

Texas teen arrested over clock is moving to Qatar with his family. By Lisa Maria Garza DALLAS (Reuters) - The Texas boy arrested for bringing to school a homemade Reuters

2015 Refinance Rates Take Huge Dip- 2.97% APR LendingTree Sponsored

How the Back to the Future Cast and Crew Knew Eric Stoltz Would Be Fired nymag.com

Justin Trudeau through the years Yahoo News

Does Xiaomi Copy Apple? WSJ Live

Historical Images That Changed The World Buzzlamp Sponsored

Biden: I'm not running for president in 2016 Olivier Knox