

Global Programme Review of Gender Statistics

United Nations Statistics Division

6th IAEG on Gender Statistics
(Dead Sea, Jordan, 25-26 March 2012)

Overview

- 2011 UN Statistical Commission requested UNSD to work with the UN Regional Commissions to conduct a comprehensive review of national gender statistics programmes
- The objectives of the survey are:
 - To obtain information on how gender perspectives are mainstreamed into national statistical systems including all traditional areas of statistical production as well as new emerging areas;
 - To provide the necessary elements to assess the most successful ways to integrate gender into the production and use of statistics and develop international guidelines.
- The survey was carried out by Regional Commissions between December 2011 and February 2012.

Common questionnaire

- Background information
- Part 1. Institutional arrangements
- Part 2. Production (including data collection) of gender statistics
- Part 3. Addressing users' needs
- Part 4. Assessment of mainstreaming gender into national statistical systems
- Part 5. Legal framework
- Part 6. Comments

Next steps

- UNSD will compile regional results into a global synthesis
- UNSD will propose examples of best practices for gender statistics programmes to be agreed by IAEG and used by countries as a reference/guide.
