- 1 The unit or base year indicated in this column is the unit or base year in which the respective data are published in the Monthly Bulletin of Statistics.
If reporting in these particular units or base years is not possible, please indicate the units or base year of the data reported in the same column.
For indices reported in a different base year from the publication base year, efforts will be made to rebase them wherever possible to ensure their publication.
If series (other than indices) are reported in units different from those requested for publication purposes, we cannot guarantee that they will be published (with the exception of trade data).
- 2 Please insert new columns for additional and revised data.
