B. Population (paragraphs 19.9-19.14)

General comment	I feel that paragraph 9 is badly written. I suggest the following:
19.9	Annual population estimates are based primarily on population censuses which are normally conducted every 10 years. During a population census, a count is taken of all members of households even though some members may be away temporarily. Since a census is conducted every ten years, estimates of the population for the inter censal years are derived using less robust methods such as the natural population increase (births minus deaths) plus net migration.

19:22*	You stated “ self employed persons also include contributing family workers working in unincorporated enterprises”. I believe that these kinds of workers are classified as unpaid workers .

Part III. Other specific comments

You are welcome to make other specific comments. To assist you in doing so, the following points are provided as a guide to the types of points on which you might wish to comment. Note, though, that you are not restricted to commenting on only these points.

1. Are the details of the labour force and the differences between the ILO and SNA conventions sufficiently clear?
2. Is the discussion of standardised labour inputs sufficient?
3. Is the discussion of labour productivity sufficient?
4. Can you recommend references to be included?
