The United States (U.S.) welcomes the report of the International Labour Organization on the continued development of informal economy statistics and supports the efforts to develop new standards and align the current statistical framework to the System of National Accounts general production boundary. We note the importance of classifying own-use production of goods and own-use provision of services while considering household production. We would be interested to see the proposed classifications and plans for distribution and consultation.