2. The number of linguistic and geographical divisions and their compositions may be revised as necessary by the Group.

5. Each division may elect a Vice-Chair and such other officers as may be required.
6. The Division Chair and Vice-Chair shall stimulate activities in the standardization of geographical names within their division by all appropriate means, such as correspondence with national bodies on the standardization of geographical names and national geospatial agencies, and organization of meetings of the division members.
7. The Division Chair shall be responsible for ensuring that the work of the Group and its potential for technical assistance are brought to the attention of the individual States that are members of the division concerned and for reporting to the Group any special problems in the division.
8. To discuss technical and procedural matters, a division may organize meetings to be held in parallel with sessions of the Group and meetings of any body of its organizational structure, or at any other appropriate time.

Status of Divisions

Divisions can be grouped in various ways – this is one possible grouping:

1. Divisions that are active, meet regularly with substantial participation and have ongoing cooperation between the member states, often with division-wide projects.

2. Divisions that have some active member states, but with little cooperation between them.

3. Divisions that are inactive, through lack of communication between member states, and/or lack of leadership for the division.

For those divisions not functioning as hoped, there is a range of issues to be addressed to improve the situation, for instance: lack of contact between member states, lack of a Division Chair, a low-level of geographical names activity within the member states, political differences between member states.
Draft Decision on the use and safeguarding of exonyms

1. Considering the United Nations Charter adopted on 26 June 1945, and notably its Article 1 referring to the principle of self-determination of peoples, which implies at the same time the right of peoples who inhabit a place to name it and the right of other peoples to refer to that place in their own language without foreign interference;

2. Considering the Convention for the Safeguarding of the Intangible Cultural Heritage adopted by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) on 17 October 2003, which implies the safeguarding of languages and the safeguarding of geographical names which are “vehicles of the intangible cultural heritage”;

3. Recalling that decision 1967/I/4 (C, 1) has set up the objective that “unnecessary changing of names be avoided”;

4. Recalling that decisions 1972/II/28, 2002/VIII/9, 2007/IX/4 and 2012/X/3 have recognized some geographical names, either endonyms or exonyms, as part of the intangible cultural heritage, and that decisions 1972/II/36, 1987/V/22, 2002/VIII/1 and 2007/IX/5 have underlined the legitimacy of using indigenous and minority geographical names in addition to the name in the majority language;

5. Recognizing that most exonyms, coined by common usage, generally indicate a familiarity of the language community or its sub-group(s) to the denominated features without any idea of domination on them, unlike some of those created artificially;
6. Recognizing that the relationship between geographical names, either endonyms or exonyms, and geographical features cannot be absolutely unambiguous like for a data processing identifier, but only be relatively unambiguous to a language community or its sub-groups, which has to define an acceptable scope of ambiguity;

7. Recognizing that technical advances in data management have dramatically lessened the practical need for reducing the use of exonyms since the early Conferences on the Standardization of Geographical Names;

8. Recalls that exonyms should be reduced in international and especially diplomatic use and that the possible use of an exonym in such a context should be done with consideration of political and cultural sensitivity, taking also into account the relevant provisions of last paragraph of decision 1982/IV/20, as well as the precedence of national official forms;

9. Recalls that exonyms should be used in combination with the corresponding endonym, wherever possible, in uses without context like databases, gazetteers or maps (printed or digital);
Draft Decision on the use and safeguarding of exonyms

10. Recommends that national standardization should register, standardize and safeguard as living and vital parts of languages those exonyms coined by a long enough and still current usage which meet the criteria listed by decision 2012/X/3;

11. Recommends that national standardization should not initiate the formation of exonyms, except by conversion from one writing system to another, by the omission, addition or alteration of diacritics or the article, by declension or derivation, or by the translation of a generic term;

12. Considers outdated the provisions of previous UNGEGN decisions which would be inconsistent with this decision, such as those calling for a blanket reduction of exonyms.

Divisional Chairs invited to circulate the draft decision on Exonyms to their members for review and submit their comments to the UNGEGN Secretariat
UN-GGIM/UNEGGN project proposal

Project Title
Preparation of a compendium of institutional arrangements on shared good practices between national mapping agencies and national names authorities

Objectives

This proposal invites National Mapping Agencies (NMAs) and National Geographical Names Authorities (NGNAs) to collaborate and contribute to the development of a compendium of institutional arrangements and operational good practices that strengthens working relations between mapping and geographical names authorities to support the collection, management, and dissemination of standardized geographical names.

i. To build a stronger relationship between the Group of Experts and the Committee of Experts.

ii. To identify, collate and document relevant and acceptable principles, examples of good practices and guidelines/recommendations that may be used by both NMAs and NGNAs across Member States to strengthen their operations.
UN-GGIM/UNEGGN project proposal

Initial High-Level Tasks

1. Select and solicit participation of NMA’s and NGNA’s
2. Decide on areas to be queried and prepare questions to be asked of NMA’s and NGNA’s by way of interviews and or surveys
3. Conduct desk study - one on one discussion/interview session or on-line surveys and on-line web searches of NMA’s and NGNA’s websites
4. Collate and analyze data from interviews, surveys and desk study
5. Prepare first draft of compendium of good practices.
6. Review and feedback to finalize compendium of good practices
7. Present the (draft) compendium at the 2023/third UNGEGN session and thirteenth session on UN-GGIM
8. Conduct joint side events to discuss findings and identify future activities.
Project Implementation

How the project is to be staffed is to be addressed. Several options have been identified and are to be explored to determine feasibility. This requires further scoping of the project in terms of factors to be considered, number of countries to be included in the survey – ensuring geographical balance across UN member states and duration among others.

Option 1
The UNSD identifies and assigns existing staff within the division to coordinate and conduct the project and tasks.

Option 2
The UNSD seeks the services of a UN intern for a period of six months. Lead time will be required to contract an intern.

Option 3
NMA’s and NGNA’s identify staff to be placed on virtual secondment for an agreed time and duration.

Option 4
NMA’s and NGNA’s conduct a self-study to identify good practices according to a template/questions to be designed.

Option 5
Contract the services of a consultant to complete the project. This option is only feasible should funding be made available through UNSD existing resources or trust fund support of a UN Member State.
