

In the Name of God, the Most Compassionate, the Most Merciful

No. 1634383

15 June 2023

Excellency,

Upon instructions from my Government, and with reference to the 2023 session of the United Nations Group of Experts on Geographical Names (UNGEGN), held from 1st to 5th May 2023, in which an erroneous name was used for the Persian Gulf, as contained in the documents GEGN.2/2023/103/CRP.103 and GEGN.2/2023/91/CRP.91, I would like to inform the following:

- Geographical names are a part of the valuable heritage of human beings inherited from the past, and the preservation and transmission of these names to future generations is a duty that has been emphasized for years by many, including the United Nations. Some geographical names are rooted in history and continue to be made mention of in maps, books, travelogues, and correspondence for thousands of years. There is no doubt about their authenticity, including the names of the world's most famous oceans and mountain ranges. The name of the Persian Gulf is clearly, and without a shadow of a doubt, unique in all documents and maps, and in all languages and scripts, dating back thousands of years. Therefore, blemishing the name of the Persian Gulf, even for non-scientific reasons, is not up to the experts present in this meeting.
- Furthermore, the UN Secretariat document ST/CS/SER.A/29/Rev.1 dated 14 May 1999, regarding the legitimacy and accuracy of the documents of the historical name of the Persian Gulf, as well as the established practice of different countries and the United Nations over the past century in only using this historical name, all recognize and emphasize that the only true geographical designation for the body of water lying between the Iranian Plateau and the Arabian Peninsula is the Persian Gulf.

In light of the foregoing, we call on member states to adhere to the norms and arrangements governing the protection of geographical names.
