In the background of a study to measure the burden of disease in Sudan, adult death registration completeness was assessed using Brass Growth Balance method.

Partial birth and death rates were calculated from registered deaths in 2002 and total mid-year population projections. Linear regression of partial birth rates on partial death rates was used to calculate the completeness of death registration.

Civil Registration and Vital Statistics Knowledgebase