

WORLD STATISTICS DAY CELEBRATION IN IRELAND

The Central Statistics Office of Ireland (CSO) will mark World Statistics Day (WSD) with the following events:

- A 9:30am press conference at the Government Buildings, Dublin opened by Minister for State, Mr. John Curran T.D. after which the CSO will present key findings from the 2010 Yearbook, published that morning.
- Launch of the CensusAtSchool project in all primary and post primary schools, in conjunction with The National Centre for Technology in Education (NCTE), The National Council for Curriculum and Assessment (NCCA) and Project Maths Development Team.
- Launch a new annual award, the John Hooper Medal for Statistics in cooperation with Project Maths Development Team and the International Statistical Literacy Project, to support the improvement and appreciation of mathematics in schools.
- A special symposium to be held at 10:00am at CSO, Ardee Road, Dublin featuring talks on the mechanics, applications and extensions of input-output analysis in Ireland.

Ireland, 19 October 2010