

WORLD STATISTICS DAY CELEBRATION IN AUSTRALIA

The Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS) will be celebrating World Statistics Day with the following initiatives:

- The NatStats 2010 conference, and the public release of its conclusions and recommendations
- Release of full results of the Study into Community trust in Statistics
- Launch of a new publication promoting the use of statistics for evidence based policy
- Events in regional offices will be attended by key data users and producers, as well as other members of the statistical community

Australia, 8 September 2010