Data disaggregation for SDG indicators

This section contains good practices and examples of national plans and strategies for data disaggregation, main disaggregation categories, and websites or publications on data disaggregation for SDG monitoring from countries. It also contains existing tools and resources on data disaggregation from international expert groups and committees and regional and international organizations. In addition, this section provides information on main data disaggregation challenges faced by countries and guidelines on how to address some of these challenges.

- Countries: good practices/resources on data disaggregation
- UN regional commissions: good practices/resources on data disaggregation
- Agencies and other groups: good practices/resources on data disaggregation